LEVEREDGE UNILATERAL DIVERGING LAT PULLDOWN

The LeverEDGE Unilateral Diverging Lat Pulldown looks a bit like a menacing praying mantis. Except this one wants to give you massive lats, not bite your head off. It is the largest member of our otherwise compact LeverEDGE line. Precisely positioned leverage arms hover above comprehensive plate storage. A wide pair of thigh rollers hold you in place. There are eight chrome-plated Olympic bar-sized weight storage pegs. These keep plates handy for rapid adjustments between sets. For the heavy lifters out there, you can load up nine plates on each lever arm.

SMOOTH OPERATOR

The LeverEDGE Unilateral Diverging Lat Pulldown features heavy-duty pillow block bearings. They are as tough as nails and smooth enough to never get in the way of a workout. They also have lubrication nipples for easy maintenance.

OPTIMAL ERGONOMICS & COMFORT

The LeverEDGE Unilateral Diverging Lat Pulldown has three handles: inside neutral, wide grip, and rotating low angled. All of them have closed cell foam grips for comfort. The seat and thigh rollers both offer multiple adjustment points. It all adds up to great lat pulls for any size user.

BUILT LEGEND STRONG

The frame of the LeverEDGE Unilateral Diverging Lat Pulldown was designed using 3D CAD software. This minimizes the use of fasteners, so assembly only requires four bolts. This means to easier setup, less maintenance, and extra rigidity. Two-tone powder coat and upholstery is standard on all LeverEDGE products.
